CUSTOMER SUCCESS STORY

With a dream in mind, I decided to go boldly into the world to try to make it a reality. My participation in Start-Up Now not only helped me launch my very own business and define my market-product fit, but it also helped me identify my specific product and customer market segment. The superior value offered by this program is evident by the group of advisers and mentors that provide their years of experience, personal networks and market knowledge for our benefit. This a real life-changing initiative, and I'm so proud to have been a part of such an innovative program.
